Current Responsibility

Bryan Jones is an associate actuary with the Hartland Employee Benefit Practice of Milliman, with offices in Chicago, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Vienna, Indianapolis, Hartford, and Omaha. He joined the firm in 2009.

Professional Work Experience

Bryan's experience includes work involving defined benefit pension plans and other post-employment benefit (OPEB) plans of the public and private sectors. He has been involved in all aspects of actuarial valuations, benefit calculations, plan projections, benefit statements, plan design studies, experience studies, and special projects for pension and OPEB plans.

Bryan's clients have varied stakeholders, goals, and organizational structures. These clients include non-profit and for-profit corporations, international corporations, public utility and transportation companies, local governments, and the federal government.

Bryan serves on Milliman's ProVal Super User Committee, where he and his colleagues address technical problems involving the valuations of defined benefit pension and OPEB plans using ProVal.
