Current Responsibility

Jordan Rosenfeld is a senior director and portfolio manager within Milliman's Financial Risk Management (FRM) Practice in Chicago. He is responsible for implementing and managing derivatives strategies in exchange-traded funds, mutual funds, and unit investment trusts. Jordan leads the ETF sub-advisory team and is an active participant in FRM's product development and strategy research initiatives. The FRM Practice manages hedging strategies and provides advisory services to insurance companies, pensions, endowments, and asset managers with more than $150 billion in combined account value.

Professional Work Experience

Jordan has nine years of experience in capital markets with a focus on derivatives portfolio management and multi-asset strategy. Prior to joining Milliman, Jordan was a global macro portfolio manager at Gelber Group, where he managed a portfolio consisting of equity, interest rate, and foreign exchange derivatives.
